MURDERED WITH MATTOCK.

Italian Kills a Fellow Countryman at Kifertown During Quarrel on Saturday Night.

A BEER DRINKING BOUT WAS THE CAUSE.

Six of the Foreigners Were Locked Up, But Finally Only One Suspect Was Put Under Arrest.

Cold in death the body of Gregory Samazro sat bolt upright in a chair for nearly an hour along the public road between Scottdale and Kifertown on Saturday night. The man had been murdered by having a heavy mattock sunk in the back of his head. People who passed on the road thought that the man was simply resting in the chair, and did not know that they were looking upon a corpse.

Across the road at an Italian boarding house a drunken revelry was going on, with the material base of four kegs of beer which had been delivered that evening.

Samazro had attended the orgy and it was there that he received his death wound, but had been able to stagger across the road and sit down in the chair, on which he expired in a few minutes.

The wound was a clean cut one, more than two inches long and a half inch wide. The brain was exposed as the wound was nearly three inches deep. The mattock had pierced Samazro's hat and it was found at his feet.

During trouble in the evening about 9:30 Samazro drew a knife, in self protection, it is said. The row subsided and Samazro left. When he went out someone followed him, picked up a mattock and from behind murdered the man.

When officers from Scottdale arrived a picture was pointed out as the murderer's, and Michael Rossi was arrested. He was released last night. None of the Italians would say anything until County Detective McBeth arrested six of them.

Coroner Hagan's jury, consisting of James Keegan Jr., Adam Brown, Joseph King, William Darr and John Sullivan of Everson, returned a verdict that Samazro met his death by a mattock wound inflicted by Carmine Raperano. He had escaped.

BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Kuropatkin's Forces Hemmed in and Must Fight or Retreat.

NO TELEGRAMS FROM HAICHENG

Skirmishes in the Outer Position of Port Arthur Are Reported—The Fortress Is Said to Be Short of Ammunition.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—Although public attention has been distracted from the events of the war during the past week, first because of the fear of international complications and second because of the assassination of Minister of the Interior Von Plehve, the situation at the front is regarded as critical.

The enveloping movement of the three Japanese armies of General Kuropatkin's position appears to be almost complete and he extends a line of the Japanese seems to be only drawn back to a position of action. It is realized here that the Russian general must either fight or withdraw. The whole army northward. He is being closely pressed out at Haicheng. At that place General Kuropatkin's position makes it extremely dangerous to remain there because while holding the position to give battle against the Japanese, whose advance is not only always slow and careful, General Kuropatkin must push through and cut his railway communications to Liaoyang.

While nothing is definitely known there are some unofficial indications that matters are rapidly maturing for either a battle or a retreat. For instance, the refusal to accept further press telegrams at Haicheng is shown by the fact that the Japanese correspondents of the Associated Press had to ride through to Mukden to file an account of the Tachekiao fight. This might be construed either that preparations are making for a retreat, or that the wires are very crowded incident to concentration at Haicheng or Liaoyang. A few days are expected to determine which course General Kuropatkin has elected to pursue.

Skirmishes Near Port Arthur. There is no inclination here to doubt that there may have been pretty severe fighting at the outer positions of Port Arthur possibly accompanied by a bombardment from the sea but it is not believed that the Japanese are yet ready to storm the fortress. Rear Admiral Willott, in command of the naval forces at Port Arthur is relied on to put to sea in the condition of the fortress becomes desperate. While no definite information is obtainable the report that the fortress is short of ammunition is considered by the public as the most disquieting feature of the situation there. The Vladivostok squadron is expected in port today.

The indications are that the Baltic squadron is on the eve of an important movement. Not less than 100,000 men can be re-embarked officially by means of the others, and almost 50,000 men are being sent to the front. The Baltic squadron is expected to meet the Japanese fleet in the Gulf of Japan.

DAVIS IN JAIL

Brownsville Assyrians Have Doubt As to His Guilt.

General Sakaharoff then refused to accept a report of the battle of Tachekiao and declared that the Russian forces were not as large as General Oku represented.

Evacuation a Surprise. Our position was occupied with a view of keeping the enemy at bay and with no idea of our being defended. We did not throw up any special defenses. We held our positions against the enemy's attacks and then retired because our commanding officer did not think it possible to accept battle the following morning while defending a position with a front of 10 miles.

Evacuation of our position was a complete surprise to the Japanese. Chief of Staff, General Kuropatkin, has received word from General Oku, whom he trusts, that the Japanese have occupied the position surrounding the city of Port Arthur.

HEAVY TROLLEY TRAVEL

Hot Weather Made Crowds Take to Country.

Yesterday was one of the hottest days that Connellsville has experienced for some weeks, and the folks who were sweltering in the crowded towns took advantage of the hot weather to get some of the cool country breezes. The travel on the various electric lines was enormous, and the large cars were crowded to their utmost capacity. It was such a beautiful day for all the heat that it was too great a temptation to be resisted, and everyone seemed to wish for the trolley.

PAID OFF BONDS

Connellsville Township School Board Reduce Indebtedness.

The Connellsville Township School Board on Saturday afternoon held a special meeting and passed a resolution to pay off $5,000 of the district's bonded debt. Today the Second National Bank was paid $5,000 by the Board and bonds for that sum were canceled. This leaves a bonded indebtedness of $12,000 still standing against the School Board.

Judgment Entered

In the case of the Pugh & Benav Grocery Company against J. J. Lemle of Connellsville, judgment was entered in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant Saturday for $344.99 with interest from June 14, 1901. There was a bona fide account for goods alleged to have been sold and delivered by the plaintiff company to the defendant.

BIG DEALS IN REAL ESTATE

Cyrus Echard Buys Half Interest in Dunn-Paine Building for Consideration of $31,500.

IT HAS BEEN A VERY FINE PAYING PROPERTY.

Mr. Paine Also Sells Two Valuable Lots on South Pittsburg Street and Buys Interest in Poplar Grove Plaza.

One of the largest real estate deals consummated in Connellsville or vicinity in the past year was put through Saturday. By it Cyrus Echard comes into possession of a half interest in the Dunn Paine building on North Pittsburg street. He bought the interest of R. S. Paine. This is one of the best business properties in Connellsville. The consideration for the half interest was $31,500. The Dunn Paine building was erected about seven or eight years ago.

The business quarters in the building have been occupied continuously since its erection. The rental of the building averages between $6,000 and $7,000 a year. The other half of the building is owned by Capt. E. Dunn.

Another real estate deal made last week by Mr. Paine was the sale of two lots at the corner of South Pittsburg street and Crawford avenue. The purchasers are Dr. H. F. Atkinson and Charles C. Mitchell. The consideration was $5,000. The lots have a splendid location for a business and flat block. Mr. Paine also sold three lots in his Buttermore plan of lots.

Mr. Paine was the pioneer in the rapid turning over of plans in Connellsville, going into real estate after retiring from the shoe business. For $10,000 he purchased a plan of lots from the Hogg estate including what is now Crawford avenue. The sale of these lots was rapid and Mr. Paine cleaned up a handsome profit in a few weeks. His later deals were equally shrewd and profitable.

Mr. Paine last week bought the interest of Harry Dunn in the Poplar Grove plan of lots east of Connellsville. These lots are among the finest close to Connellsville and the plan will soon be numbered among Connellsville's prettiest suburbs.

THEY SEEK DIVORCE

Two Fayette County People Are Tired of Married Life.

Two more Fayette county couples tried to get married, but failed to get to the altar. On Saturday afternoon Attorney Lee Smith of Uniontown in a divorce proceeding on behalf of Charles H. Snipe, an attorney, and his wife, Mary Snipe, who was then far from happy, sought a divorce from the court house here on Monday. The couple were married in 1885. At that time they lived in Ohio, where they had a son, Charles H. Snipe, Jr. They moved to Uniontown in 1890, and in 1891 they moved to Fayette county. They had a daughter, Mary Snipe, in 1892. AN ACRE OF CORN.

One Ton of Sugar and Two of Paper Pulp In It.

ANALYSIS IN THIS SECTION.

Prof. F. L. Stewart of Westmoreland County Announces Wonderful Results From Years of Investigation Regarding Common Field Corn and Its Possibilities.

One ton of sugar and over two tons of pulp, superior to that of straw or wood for paper making, is what Prof. F. L. Stewart of Murraysville, Westmoreland county, promises from an acre of corn grown anywhere in the great corn belt of the United States and cultivated by methods discovered by him. Prof. Stewart's experiments cover a period of six years, and have been tried in California, Nebraska, South Carolina, Georgia and Pennsylvania, and in each state chemical analysis it is claimed, shows the results almost identical.

Prof. Stewart produces the sugar and pulp from the stalk of the common Indian corn, on which the grain has not been permitted to ripen. He was led to investigate the subject by noticing the difference between stalks on which the ear had ripened and those from which the ear had been pulled while green. The stalk bearing the ripened grain was dry and withered, while the other was green and plump. He gathered a quantity of the green stalks, extracted the juice and found it to contain an unusual quantity of sugar.

Following the tests further, Prof. Stewart found the chips of the stalks from which the juice had been extracted made a paper pulp superior to either wood or straw and that the green corn could be made into a variety of food products which would add to the profits in cultivating corn under this method. His plan is simple and provides for pulling the corn before it ripens, permitting the juice which would go toward maturing and ripening the grain to remain in the stalks, which may be left standing until the usual time for cutting corn, it being then practically the same as sugar cane.

Prof. Stewart has testimonials from expert sugar chemists as to the correctness of his deductions, and what is more, he makes and exhibits the sugar and pulp.

By Prof. Stewart's discovery a new field is opened to the farmer, who, by the product of his fields may serve to benefit the public by overwhelming both the sugar and paper trusts. Prof. Stewart shows conclusively that the products will be profitable far beyond that the farmer can get from the average product of his acres.

Prof. Stewart is endeavoring to enlist capitalists in his discovery with a view to having a factory established for demonstration purposes.

NEW STREET RAILWAY.

To Be Built Through Coal Region of Somerset County.

Contracts aggregating over $500,000 have just been let by Pittsburghers for the construction of an electric railroad from Garrett, Pa., to Frostburg, Md., a distance of 25 miles. The company which is incorporated as the Meyersdale & Salisbury railroad, proposes furnishing light and power to a dozen Pennsylvania towns and eventually operating a passenger line from Johnstown, Pa., to Cumberland, Md. The central power plant will be at Boynton work on which will be started at once. A part of the system will be in operation by next spring.

The main contract was awarded to Thomas Deegan & Co. of Philadelphia and 12 miles of the construction work will be done by J. J. Houghton of Allegheny. The company is now negotiating for the purchase of the Cumberland & Westernport street railway, which owns 17 1/2 miles of electric road. The branches of this road run from Frostburg to Cumberland and to Lonaconing, Md.

The original charter was secured at Harrisburg, Pa., in 1901, and the capitalization was fixed at $250,000. With the securing of the right of way and the establishment of a survey the capital was increased to $1,500,000. It is understood that before the road is in operation about $800,000 will have been expended.

As far as can be learned the company will be independent of other concerns. It will pass through the Salisbury and Georges Creek coal regions drawing business from over 20 mines. It is possible that both power and light may be furnished several of these mines, although the bulk of the contracts will be municipal. What towns will be served cannot be learned. The electric line will run from Garrett via Meyersdale, Boynton and Salisbury to Maryland points.

The president of the company is Orran W. Kennedy of Uniontown. H. L. Borland, president of the Union Realty Company, is treasurer, and W. J. Ward is secretary. The directors are Homer J. Lidsay, William Gibson, J. W. Pryor and S. M. Graham. The work of promoting the line was done by W. W. Staub, formerly connected with the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville railway.

CARNIVAL GONE.

Largest Crowd of the Week Out Saturday Night.

After enjoying a week of prosperity in the smallest town that they have visited, the carnival company pulled up stakes early yesterday morning and left for Michigan City, Ind., where they will perform this week. There was a greater crowd present Saturday night than any preceding night, and it was in the early hours of Sunday morning before all returned home and got into their "trundle beds." For those with the company, however, the termination of the night's performance was the beginning of many hours of weary work preparing the equipment for the long jump that was before it. Many of the spectators were greatly disappointed to see the high ladder taken down early in the evening, and as a consequence, there was no high dive. Prices were reduced in most of the shows late in the evening, to attract a greater crowd inside to see "positively the last performance" of the evening.

Much confusion resulted in regard to the throwing of confetti, and rumors were running wild all over the enclosure. Some were sure that there would be none sold at all, while others were equally positive that it would be sold, and sold in abundance.

Even the proprietors of the confetti stands did not seem to know just what was on the program for the evening. One young man did a land office business about 9.30 by selling his small stock of the article in demand, while others held on to what they had in stock until they could find out just what to do. A seemingly reliable statement got into circulation commencing at ten o'clock sharp, and almost immediately after that each stand keeper who had any confetti was shown a receipt to the management of the show for all the confetti that was in stock. When this became known, those who were anticipating a few hours of genuine fun by throwing confetti had their hopes all dashed to pieces, but about eleven o'clock the selling of the commodity became general, and for the next hour or so all was confetti. Few, if any, escaped a showering of the fine paper, and there were some who did not enjoy the treat as much as their tormentors had planned for their pleasure. I was, with few exceptions, a full crowd, and there were not many to take serious offense at the familiarity with which they were showered with confetti.

The work of breaking up the show and getting the equipment in shape for transportation was an all night job, and it was not until eleven o'clock yesterday morning that the train bearing the last of the carnival left Connellsville. They will not perform today, but will start up in Michigan City Tuesday.

The park looks deserted and bare after the week of gaiety that occurred within its bounds, and only lumber that was used in the construction of the stands, etc., is visible, and this is fast being hauled away.

Now that the carnival is gone, the loyal citizens of the town will have to turn out in full force to welcome the gallant fire ladders who are holding their annual convention here next week.

OHIO-PYLE.

Notes from the Little Mountain Resort Up the Yough.

Ohio-Pyle, August 1.—Hurry! for the first of August, a fine time to subscribe to The Courier.

Mrs. Bertha Williams left on train No. 49 Friday evening for Connellsville where she expects to visit for a few days.

Charles Collins of Connellsville was a business caller in town Friday. He returned to that place on train No. 49.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Conway and daughter Agnes, went to Connellsville Friday evening to take in the carnival. They returned on No. 10.

Miss Margaret Trenchell of Connellsville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Colburn, of this place for several days, returned home Friday evening.

Read The Courier for all the latest news. Don't fail to read the new serial story soon to begin entitled "Uncle Terry."

Frank Ridgeway of Sugar Loaf was a business caller in town Friday.

Misses Bessie and Lena Lindeman and Miss Lillian Horton were on a shopping tour in our metropolis last Friday. They are from Salt Spring.

The following persons arrived on train No. 10 Friday evening: William Glatfelter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Conway and daughter Agnes, Sylvester Bryner and Charles Stewart.

William Glatfelter was a business caller from Connellsville Friday. He pronounced the carnival a wonder.

Melodious strains of music aroused North Ohio-Pyle Friday, but after a hasty investigation it was found to be none other than Doc Shipley and R. N. Rittenour singing a duet. They were thinking of Parker at the time.

POLE TAX DECISION.

Rendered by Superior Court Over Much Mooted Matter.

The superior court on Thursday handed down a decision which is of particular interest to the citizens of the boroughs of the state. The case was an appeal from Allegheny county and involved the right of a borough to exempt a corporation granted a franchise from the payment of license fees on pole taxes. Some time ago the council of the borough of Bradlock adopted an ordinance imposing a tax of $2 each upon all telegraph, telephone, electric light and trolley pole erected within the limits of the borough. It was estimated that this tax would add a considerable amount to the revenues of the borough and thus relieve in some measure the ratepayers of the burden of taxation.

The Allegheny County Telephone Company refused to pay the tax and suit was brought by the borough to which the company made defense on the ground that its franchise granted by the borough exempted it from all taxation, this telephone company having agreed that the rate should never be higher within the limits of the borough than a certain sum named in the ordinance. The superior court holds that the borough had no right to exempt the company or any other corporation from the charges imposed under the ordinance uniformly on all corporations of the same character.

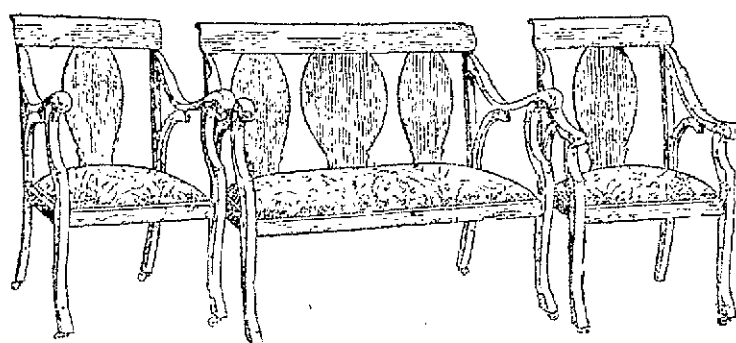

Justice Smith in the opinion said that the constitution of Pennsylvania forbids such exemption. He calls attention to the numerous decisions which assert that the ordinance under which the charges made is a police measure enacted for the purpose of defraying the cost of municipal supervision and says that the pole charge is not a municipal tax in the sense used in the telephone company's franchise.

The company did not raise the question of the reasonableness of the tax. The tendency in most of the larger towns is to increase the rate of tax.

FAITH WITHOUT WORKS.
The real estate deal reported in our news columns to-day does not betray any depreciation in Connellville's business property. Evidently our own people have full faith in the business situation and the town's future.

Our esteemed contemporary, The News, will no doubt say that this is an evidence of the confidence existing in the country now that the election of Parker and Davis is assured, and while this, like most other opinions of The News, will not be seriously considered by the public, it is comforting to know the fact, especially from Democratic sources, that times are actually improving. The theories can take care of themselves.

But the people who own real estate in Connellville and are consequently vitaly interested in maintaining property values, and of increasing them, are the persons who should work hard and steadfastly for the upbuilding of the town. We regret to say that, with a few honorable exceptions, they don't.
Men who will not help themselves must not expect others to do it for them, at least not all the time. The prosperity of Connellville capital is in its own hands.

"Faith without works is dead."

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

The News, commenting on John Jackson's execution, says that capital punishment is the severest infliction that visits man or brute; that the dangerous beast is executed only when his presence is a menace to human or other animal beings, and a human murderer's life is demanded
for the same reason.

We echo the sentiment of our esteemed contemporary, but we question the statement that capital punishment is "the severest infliction that visits man or brute." When a man and woman deliberately commit suicide it is evident that there are some other things more dreadful than death.

SELF-MARRIAGES.

Is Marriage a Failure?
This question was once the subject
of national, eye, international debate,
and we do not believe it was ever satisfactorily settled.

But the court records of Fayette county indicate that, in this section at least, self-marrriages are frequent failures. By self-marrriage, we mean that ceremony before the Register of the County whereby the man and woman merely acknowledge to him after securing the license that they take each other as man and wife.

The good old-fashioned way, wherein the minister ties the knot with impressive solemnity and elaborate ceremony, seems to be more binding.
Besides, the preachers need the money.

George Graham Vest was one of the few men who voluntarily laid aside the Senatorial toga. He was a small man in many respects, but a great statesman always. He was at times taciturn and generally abusive, but he was honest. He had many qualities of mind and heart to endear him to his fellows, and a more sticking proof of this fact could not be presented than the well-known and warm friendship that always existed between himself and Senator Quay, between an uncompromising Rebel Democrat and a Union Stalwart Republican.

The Great and Bounding West no longer has a monopoly in the hold-up trade. Wild and Woolly Western Pennsylvania seems to be occupying the center of the stage lately. The distinction is of doubtful honor.

The News recently contained a learned disquisition on the subject of hiring appendages, and the conclusion was irresistibly, emphatically and conclusively drawn that every consideration of neatness and cleanliness, health and happiness, mainly beauty and womanly preference, demanded that man be clean shaven, as have all types of the world's highest civilization been since history began. We agree with Editor McGinnis, but we do not understand why he does not agree with himself.

Connellville was a hot town yesterday notwithstanding the street carnival had departed.

The Vladivostok squadron has been chased home from Japanese waters
whether it went to prey upon commerce. It seems singular that so great a power as Russia should shun-der and shrink at the approach of the little brownie's navy.

The Democratic party of Westmoreland county is in the hands of "The Two Johns," John Latta and John Brown.

It is rumored that John H. Brown, Republican boss of Westmoreland county until his despotism was cast down and destroyed by a rebellious party, will be nominated by the Democrats for County Controller. What a funny Democratic party it has become in Old Westmoreland.

Ohlpylle is not as prudish as Asbury Park and is quite ready to tolerate and even welcome Atlantic City manners, but the municipal government rightly tanks there is a place to draw the line when it comes to the regulation of bathing costumes. At least as much as the Igorrotes wear should be demanded.

We beg to indulge our readers if
The Daily Courier isn't up to its standard of excellence. Our mechanical department is having troubles of its own to-day.

The official Organ of Reform congratulates the Democratic administration and its perfect police force on the fact that the town had good order
during the past week on the occasion of a street carnival. The fact wasn't due to the police, but to the fact that the people all went to the street carnival. They didn't loaf around the saloons and get drunk and fight.

Irwin now says that tobacco on Saturday now, but they smoke them on Sunday just the same.

The decision of the Supreme Court in the pole tax cases says in effect that the boroughs and cities of this State are not "stringent" the telegraph and telephone companies when they impose this much-desired tax.

Out West they rob trains; here in Pennsylvania they rob paymasters.

The census reports inform us that the cement business is growing wonderfully in this country. We hope to see it grow in Connellville before another year.

President Kennedy of the Somerset county trolley system has his schedule mixed when he ran for Congress on the Democratic ticket a couple of years ago. He ought to have waited until he got the trolley system started.
By the judicious use of trolley tickets
he might have carried Somerset county.

It was once said that rum, brandy and whisky made Democrats, but a Westmoreland county seerist to find now and better late than never.

Memorial of John K. Cowen.

Several of the Pittsburg officials of the Baltimore & Ohio are in receipt of a beautiful memorial to the late John K. Cowen, former president of the road and for many years its general counsel. The memorial is contained in a neatly bound and engraved pamphlet. It contains a true portrait of Mr. Cowen and a copy of the resolution adopted at a special meeting of the directors of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Exchange Etchings.

The Washington Reporter thinks it has discovered the reason why Fayette county has better order than Washington county in the fact that our license rules are far more stringent.

The Fayette county judges have made an honest effort to carry out the license law as they find it and at the same time to conserve public morals.

The Irwin Standard advocates the extension of the borough limits, and adds that "West Irwin, including the properties to the mile stable, are willing to come in."

The esteemed Standard draws the line at the mile stable, possibly for the reason that their inclusion might make the borough Democratic.

The New Castle Herald's wise man says advertising is the craft of the business fortune against the swift-running tide of competition. He can't make headway unless he rows steady-ly, persistently. To use the oar but occasionally is to lose by drifting what he gains by rowing. The bigger the oar, the better the "purchase,"
and the faster the progress; but better a little row steadily used than a big one piled only now and then.

It is a notable fact that the "Dead-end" always do the most and the best business.

Lost Years.
"How old did you say she is?"
"She says twenty-four."
"But the family record says she was born in 1870."
"Yes, but she lived ten years in Philadelphia, and of course she doesn't count those."

On the Way Back.
"There is one good thing about play-

"I can't see that it has a redeeming

"You know walking is such healthful

An Attraction.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

Imposing Ceremonies Attended Burial of Minister Von Plehve.

EMPEROR IS VISIBLY AFFECTED

Thousands View the Funeral Cortege on Its Way to Cemetery With Uncovered Heads—Successor Not Yet Selected.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—M. Von Plehve, the minister of the interior, who was assassinated Thursday morning last, was buried, and in every city and hamlet of this vast empire church bells were tolled and masses and prayers said for the repose of the soul of the murdered minister.

The services here, which were according to the rites of the Orthodox church, were an impressive and imposing character. At 11 o'clock in the morning high mass was said in the stately chapel adjoining the ministry of the interior. Emperor Nicholas and the dowager empress stood with the brokeheaded widow and the children of the minister at the foot of a great mound of flowers on which rested the casket.

To the right, on gold embroidered cushions before a mass of wreaths banked to the ceiling, were ranged the decorations which had been won by the statesman during his notable career. To the left, were the metropolitan of St. Petersburg and the orthodox bishops and priests in their gold embroidered vestments. A screen of flowers concealed the famous imperial boys' choir.

Widow Overcome With Grief.

The entire assemblage was in full uniform and on each one present was a badge of mourning. At the most solemn moment, when all knelt and many were affected by tears, the widow was overcome and fainted. The emperor came to her assistance and she was carried out by gentle hands. The emperor was visibly moved and upon the conclusion of the mass he followed the casket, which was taken upon the shoulders of the ministers and borne down the broad marble staircase to the street. There the funeral procession was formed and the body was placed in a great white open hearse drawn by six coal-black horses which were blanketed from their ears to their tails in sombre trappings. A black-garbed groom stood at each side and in advance went 16 similarly clad lantern bearers. Behind the hearse walked the members of the minister's family and then came a long and distinguished body of mourners. It being the Russian custom to follow the dead to the grave on foot, the emperor himself walked a short distance, but as the Novodevichy monastery, where the burial took place, was over five miles away and also because of the condition of the empress, his majesty soon entered his carriage and returned to the Peterhof palace.

At the end of the procession came four white chariots filled with the floral offerings. The cortege proceeded slowly through the avenues and streets, preceded by a squad of mounted police, and passed within sight of the place where the tragedy occurred.

The sidewalks along the route were crowded, but lines of police kept the streets clear to the caskets. As the body passed every head was uncovered and thousands crossed themselves.

The monastery stands on a plain beyond the Narva gates and at these gates fully 50,000 persons were gathered.

After a burial service in the church the body was interred in the adjoining cemetery where repose the remains of many of Russia's great men and at a point within a stone's throw of the grave of M. Sipiagin, who was M. Von Plehve's predecessor and who also fell by the hand of an assassin less than two years ago.

The murder of M. Von Plehve has been removed from the hospital to the Wyborgsky prison. The police know the ally under which he traveled, but they are not yet satisfied regarding his identity and decline to reveal the alias on the ground that it might defeat the ends of justice.

Outcome of Plot.

There is no longer any doubt that the police for some time have had knowledge of the existence of a plot by a band of imperialists to assassinate the emperor in Paris and Vienna. The leading conspirator, it is said, was a man whom the Russian government tried to extradite from Paris last fall. Some of these conspirators arrived here a week ago and the police thought that all of them had been taken into custody.

The far-reaching character of the machinery of the ministry of the interior and the urgent necessity for dealing with many pending matters, render it imperative that the emperor select a successor to M. Von Plehve immediately and it is considered certain that he will do so this week. Influences hostile to M. Witte, president of the council of ministers, in spite of his acknowledged great ability and the general belief that he is the man for the position, seem to render his appointment increasingly improbable. Prince Sviatopolk-Mirski, governor general of Vilna, Grodno and Kovno, is now prominently mentioned, together with M. Muraviev, minister of justice; Lieutenant General Kleig, governor general of Kieff, Podolia and Volynia, and Prince John Obolensky, governor general of Finland.

Body Found in River.

Wheeling, Aug. 1.—The body of Joseph Lamar, Jr., of Pittsburgh, was found in a clump of willows on the river shore near this city. When the body was lifted a knife with a three-inch blade fell from the inside of the shirt, and an examination showed that it had been plunged through the heart. Lamar left home 10 days ago.

DUNBAR.

Events of the Day in the Busy Furnace Town.

Dunbar, August 1.—Although Howard Miner, proprietor of the Dunbar House, since coming here, has spent a vast amount of money in order to improve his house in appearance and convenience, and he is still improving it. This time it is the erection of a large water tank on the hill back of the hotel to take the place of the two small ones that were there. One of the small tanks has been removed and the foundation is partly up for the new tank. The new tank will have a sufficient capacity to furnish plenty of water, and in case of a fire it would be of great value, for should a fire break out in the building there would be sufficient water to extinguish it if discovered before it had gained much headway.

James Scott, Jr., one of Dunbar's prominent young men and a graduate of the Dunbar borough schools of the class of 1904, has accepted a position as clerk in Rainey's store at Ronco. He left this morning to assume his duties. Mr. Scott will no doubt prove a valuable and efficient clerk.

"Uncle Terry."

W. B. Phillips, who has been working for Jacob McFarland while he was erecting a fine dwelling on Connellsville street, has returned to his home in Smithfield to work on the house having been completed, and is now occupied by Mr. McFarland.

Hoffman Liston of Greensburg was here Saturday, the guest of relatives. Last year when the Collins Band of Vanderbilt ran an excursion from New Haven over the P. & O. E. railroad to Alliquippa park a few days prior to the date of the excursion they came to Dunbar and furnished some very fine music. They will have another excursion to the same point in a few days and it is arranged for the band to again visit Dunbar (tomorrow evening, coming from Vanderbilt on a special car. There will likely be a large delegation from this place take advantage of the cheap rates. The band has already placed tickets on sale at S. A. Davidson's store.

Miss Grace Pope, who has been visiting her parents in Friendsville, Md., has returned home.

John McGurk, one of C. A. Marietta's hawking career, is a great devotee of The Daily Courier and he is selling some of them, too.

Miss Iola Smith, who has been the guest of relatives in Valencia for the past two weeks, returned home Saturday evening.

John, Adam and William McDowell, who were on a fishing trip up the Yough last week, have returned home. They report having had a good time. They also report having made a good catch.

Miss Mary P. Gilchrist, who has been here the guest of friends for several days, left Saturday morning for Dawson.

Miss Edith Blythe, one of Dunbar's prominent young ladies, has gone to Markleton, where she will spend a two-week vacation breathing in the fresh mountain air.

J. W. Fleuniken of Dawson was a business caller in town recently.

Miss Grace Calhoun, seamstress for Miss Jennie Watt, was calling on friends in Connellsville Saturday afternoon.

Read The Daily Courier.

George Martin and Stark Dean left Saturday evening for an extended visit at Niagara Falls and Canada.

Miss Helen Ryan is the guest of friends and relatives in Bradock this week.

The small boys who had a tent erected near the frame school house last week and were giving an imaginary carnival, have taken down their tent and closed their engagement at this place. They became too weary and the engagement was closed upon the advice of those whom they disturbed.

SITUATION LITTLE CHANGED IN THE CHICAGO STRIKE

SOME RIOTING IS REPORTED

Meat Packers and Union Men Remain Firm and Both Lay Claim to Victory.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The conflict between capital and unionism which has been going on in the packing trade for a long time, throughout the country for nearly three weeks shows no signs of abatement.

Both of the opposing interests seem as determined as ever on a fight to the finish and the indications are that the struggle will continue until one side or the other makes a complete surrender.

Both sides say they have gained. The packers report their plants to be in full operation and the strikers say they have won back many of the men who went to work and many of the strikebreakers.

Temporary aid is being given the strikers who are in need and the benefit money from Chicago has been heard from.

Temporary benefit headquarters were opened by the cattle butchers and casing workers in Armourdale. The other unions have committees at work along the same lines.

The withdrawal of credit hitherto extended by local merchants and retailers to workmen on strike at the stockyards, coupled with the close approach of rent day, which falls today, has brought about a new contingency that will require ready cash or leniency on the part of property owners. Although it is generally predicted that a possible era of eviction is not yet at hand, the fact remains that today over $150,000 in rent is due from strikers, a large number of whom make no secret of their inability to meet the payments.

In a fight at the Nelson Morris plant between Andrew Simms and John Davis, both non-union workmen from New Albany, Ind., the former was stabbed and killed. Simms was employed by the packing company as a waiter in the improvised dining room which has been fitted up for the men employed as strikebreakers. Davis was employed as a cook by the same concern. While eating dinner they became involved in a quarrel over the food. In the fight that followed Davis was getting decidedly the worst of it, and drawing a knife stabbed Simms three times. Simms died in the hospital two hours later and Davis was arrested.

Police Clash With Mob. The police and a mob of strike sympathizers clashed last night in the vicinity of the stockyards. The disturbance was caused by two non-union men who entered a saloon and asked for a drink where a crowd of the strikers' friends had congregated. When the bartender went to serve the strikebreakers the other men in the place protested and a fight followed. Several policemen, hearing the disturbance, ran to the saloon and succeeded in quelling the attacking party. The doors of the place were barricaded, but the rioters, being reinforced by several hundred of their friends, returned to renew the attack. A riot act was sent in, but before the patrol wagon with a squad of policemen had arrived the saloon had been partly wrecked. It was necessary for the police to fire a volley from their revolvers over the heads of the rioters before they dashed in their attack on the place. With the exception of bruises and scratches received during the disturbance no one was seriously injured.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 1.—Rioting again broke out in the stockyards in St. Joseph last night, when the packers endeavored to struggle in a squad of nonunion men.

Sixty policemen lined up across Illinois avenue to oppose a mob of strikers. A fierce hand to hand battle occurred, in which almost every policeman broke his club on the heads of the strikers.

Frederick Van Natta, a striker, was badly hurt from wounds about the head and may die. Several special police officers deserted their brother officers during the fight, throwing away their stars and clubs. The strikers say they will have 2,000 men at the plants this morning to prevent the entrance of two carloads of non-union men who will arrive from Chicago.

Sioux City, Ia., Aug. 1.—"The Cripple plant will be thrown open to the striking employees to return to work today," said Manager Watson of the Cripple company.

Watson said that if the strikers did not return he would hire other men and none of the strikers would be taken back. President McGuire of the hog butchers' union declared the strikers would not accept the offer.

Did Not Desecrate Flag.

Boston, Aug. 1.—Stars and Stripes do not constitute a United States flag unless arranged according to the form authorized by the United States government, according to a decision of Judge Adams, announced in the municipal court. The opinion was given in the case of two persons who recently opened a store for the display of decorations for the coming U. S. national encampment here and who had been arrested on the charge of desecrating the United States flag by selling a lettered emblem with the usual stripes, but with the stars covering the entire third of the flag nearest the staff. Judge Adams, ruling that this was not a United States flag, discharged the respondents.

PASSENGER TRAIN HELD UP

Robbers Relieve Travelers of Their Valuables and Loot Express Car.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 1.—A train en route from Santa Rosa reports that Rock Island passenger train No. 1, which left El Paso at 7 o'clock in the morning, was held up near Tucuman, N. M., and robbed. The passengers were lined up and their valuables taken from them, after which the express and mail cars were uncoupled from the train and run about two miles up the track and there dynamited and robbed.

The robbery was reported at Logan, a small station some distance from Tucuman, by one of the passengers who had escaped the robbers. At the headquarters of the El Paso and Northwestern railroad the news of the train robbery has received partial confirmation, but the officials say they can learn nothing definite, as the holdup occurred off their division. The dispatchers in this city, while admitting a knowledge of the reported robbery, profess to know no particulars.

A posse from Delhart, headed by Sheriff J. N. Webb, was rushed to the scene of the holdup, and at a late hour it is said they have the robbers surrounded and expect to make a capture.

ENDEAVOR TO HAVE

MINERS RETURN HOME.

Denver, Aug. 1.—Attorneys H. N. Hawkins and John B. Murphy, counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, are devising ways and means to enable deported Cripple Creek miners to return to their homes. Papers are being drawn and application will be made in some court, possibly the federal court, for an injunction restraining the Citizens Alliance and mine owners from interfering with any deported miners who return to the Cripple Creek district. The Western Federation officials are also making arrangements to reopen the union stores in Cripple Creek and Victor that were raided and looted by mobs on June 6 and 7. Sheriff Edward Bell of Teller county has advised against the reopening of the stores or the return of deportees, fearing that such action will lead to violence.

Street Cars Collide.

Cleveland, Aug. 1.—Twenty-three persons were hurt as the result of a car collision between two large trolley cars on the shore line of Cleveland, Eastern and Painesville railroad, near Nottingham, Ohio. Except Mrs. John Heinrich, of No. 34 Harbor street, who is said to be badly hurt, the other passengers sustained only minor bruises.

ATTEMPTED LYNCHING.

Timely Intervention of Citizens Saved Andy Bulok's Life.

Johnstown, Aug. 1.—Enraged at the crime of Andy Bulok, a foreigner, who, it is alleged, criminally assaulted the 15-year-old daughter of A. Pacigara, at Boswell, Somerset county, a mob of 250 men attempted to lynch him and would have succeeded had it not been for the efforts of two or three men, who cut the rope which had already been placed around his neck, and dragged him away to the jail. Late last night a crowd of people lingered in the vicinity of the jail and threats against Bulok's life were again made.

Bulok carried the little girl into the woods on the pretext of wanting her to help him pick berries. The child returned home with her clothing covered with blood. An investigation by the parents brought to light what had occurred and a gang of men immediately began to scour the woods. The fellow was located about 1 o'clock. The searching party at once proceeded with preparations for lynching him. A rope was secured and one end tied about his neck. The mob was just preparing to throw the other end over the limb of a tree when a number of well-known citizens intervened and saved Bulok's life. He will be taken to jail at Somerset this morning.

QUIET DAY AT ROSE-

MOUNT AND WHITE HOUSE.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 1.—With no callers to disturb him, yesterday the quietest day passed by Judge Parker since the St. Louis convention. The subject of politics was not mentioned, even when the newspaper men paid their daily call upon the presidential candidate. Judge Parker attended church at Kingston.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The weather was excessively hot and the president and Mrs. Roosevelt spent the greater portion of the time away from the White House. Attired in their riding habits, they left the White House in their carriage in the forenoon and returned about 7 o'clock in the evening after a horseback ride to the farm of a friend in Virginia.

Drowned While Fishing.

Cleveland, Aug. 1.—John Rockers and Jacob Margo were drowned in Lake Erie while fishing from a boat. A third member of the party, Gustave Mails, had his back turned to the other two men when the boat was suddenly overturned. Mails was unable to give any reason for the capsizing of the boat; the water being calm, and he heard no scuffling by the other men.

TRAGIC IN ITS BREVITY.

The Story of the Duel Between Hamilton and Burr.

The story of the Hamilton-Burr duel is tragic in its brevity. The little party of five—the principals, their seconds and the surgeon—was on the ground not long after sunrise. The preliminaries were soon arranged. As Pendleton, Hamilton's second, gave him his pistol, he asked, "Will you have the halberd, sir?"

"Not this time," was the significant reply, and then the men faced each other.

According to the best authorities upon a disputed subject, Burr fired at the word. At the report, Hamilton started forward with a convulsive movement, reeled, involuntarily discharging his pistol into the foliage above him, and fell headlong. Burr, with an expression of pain upon his face, sprang toward him, but Van Ness, his second, seized him by the arm and hurried him down the bank and into their boat.

Hamilton, being lifted up, revived for a moment and gasped, "This is a mortal wound, doctor!" Relapsing again into unconsciousness he was again revived by the fresh air of the river. "Pendleton knows," he said, trying to turn toward his friends, "that I did not intend to fire at him."

At 2 the afternoon following he had breathed his last.

Monster Bowl of Punch.

In 1894 Admiral Edward Russell, commander of the English Mediterranean fleet, entertained 6,000 people in a large garden in Alicante, where he served the largest bowl of punch ever brewed. It contained twenty gallons of fine juice, four hogsheds of brandy, one pipe of Malaga wine, twenty-five hundred lemons, thirteen hundredweight of fine white sugar, three packages of toasted biscuits, fifty-one pounds of grated nutmeg and eight hogsheds of water.

The whole was prevented from dilution in case of rain by a large canopy, which spread over a marble fountain bowl which held the punch. The punch was served by a boy, who rowed about the basin of the fountain in a boat built for the purpose and refilled the empty cups.

Wealth in Boer Republic.

It is reported from Johannesburg that a new and unexpected source of wealth has been discovered in the territory of the late Boer republic. Near the eastern border of the Transvaal, on the ledge of the lofty South African plateau, three valuable lodes of tin ore have been found, and the deposits are apparently so extensive that predictions are heard that the new colony may prove to be as rich in tin and copper as it is already known to be in gold.
